

satellite radio is just what we needed. It will never take the place of local broadcasts and its much better suited to the mobile listener.